Comments: Please listen to common sense. I support a combination of Alternatives B and C. The ROS zones in Alternative C are stronger for year-round recreation - especially winter use. Alternative B is a stronger choice for protecting recreation access in the summer.

Alternative D proposes massive closures, and I am strongly opposed to this alternative. An alternative needs to be considered that supports all current roads and trails as well as proposes the creation of more routes to improve access. Access to nature is proving to be a critical need in people. The desire for outdoor recreation has increased tremendously in the last few years and there needs to be an alternative allowing for future growth and management so that all can enjoy this land.

Alternative C with changes as explained by TPA is the only practical choice.
