Comments: I am a user of public land for many things, hunting, fishing, skiing, snowmobiling. I see the potential human impacts on the resources that we must manage and cultivate. We must be stewards of the land. I think we also need to be able to access these places with the help of snowmobiles. Plan D in the proposed plan looks like it restricts many areas that currently spread out a large base of users and prevents too much traffic at one trailhead. I would strongly recommend that the zoning changes are not that drastic of a hangs from the current GMUG plan.
