

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/6/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Kyle

Last name: Lusigne

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Climbing anchors are an essential part of climbing safety and access. Limiting their use, installation, or maintenance severely limits safety, access, and reverses a rich and sustainable climbing history in the US. It would also limit the appeal that draws climbers here from across the world. A better solution would be one that integrates existing practices and leverages the rich climbing culture and history that has led the climbing world from the inception of the sport.