What issues or changes have you noticed regarding this resource? I have noticed the non-motorized community expansion of trails and access through user made / Rogue trail efforts, while the motorized community loses access while "Staying the Trail."

What is or isn't working regarding this resource and current management? The cultural acceptance of non-motorized, human powered mechanized travel creating new undesignated trails then the acceptance and eventual designation of such trails into the USFS inventory appears to work well for the mountain biking community. Meanwhile low ability motorized user groups do not see an increase to access of new trails.

What suggestions do you have to improve management of this resource through the revised Forest Plan? I suggest better identification and low enforcement of user made trails, while working with local Motorized Recreational Clubs & Communities to better balance the inventory of summer & winter motorized travel and recreation.
