Re: Gunsight - Humbug Integrated Pest Management Project

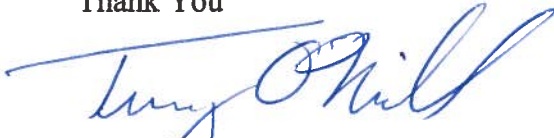

Thank you for the contact. I don't know much about the Siskiyou Mariposa Lilly. But as I own 61 acres in the area I certainly think that invasive weeds and other flora are overtaking the Natural and native growth. There is also the continued growth of Manzanita Brush. These create a significant fire hazard due to there oil content.

There are two bad groups: The Stare Thistle and the Marlahan Mustard. I'm sure these two over take the Lilly. And everything else. Anything that would Reduce there over powering infestation would be good.

My land is gated off. But I would be happy to give you access to the area. It is in the lower Humbug gulch, bordered by USFS land and other private holdings.

If you have any questions, feel free to call my office at 842-1541.

Thank You
