Dear Payette Forest Supervisor Keith Lannom and staff,

I love the Payette. I once lived in McCall, and I spent a summer living deep in the Frank Church at the University of Idaho's field station. The Payette was critical to the development not only of my wilderness ethic and my career in natural resources, but also of myself as a whole human being; one who is passionate about protecting Idaho's backcountry.

The world needs more wild places, where one can disappear into their native home, not more gold. Please don't allow corporate interests to threaten the most incredible place I've ever lived, worked, or played.

Respectfully,
Allison Fowle
