Dear sirs,

I visited the recent open house & was largely appalled by what I saw. The plans seem to almost exclusively focused on expanding the number of tourist which can be accommodated at the cost of endangering the wildlife and destroying key habitat. If this plan is carried out there will be a vast increase in people and commercial activity and a huge reduction in opportunities to see bears, beavers and salmon.

I urge you to go back to the drawing board and develop a plan which focusses on a balance between increasing economic opportunity and maintaining the world class wildlife viewing opportunity. Please consider that there is a limit to how many people can be jammed into a limited space and still maintain a quality glacier and wildlife viewing experience.

Respectfully,

Bob Wostmann
