

Linda Jackson,

My husband and I took the tour in 2019 to see for ourselves what Midas is trying to do. We are all for the reclamation of this mining district. Let's face this truth, the Federal Government is not going to reclaim this area. It is definitely not high on their priority list. Also, Valley County can use some good paying jobs and tax money into our coffers. We found everyone on the tour to be knowledgeable and conscientious in this endeavor. We truly believe also that the project would help the fish populations. As full time residents in Valley County, we feel this endeavor should be approved.

So, we are writing to express our full support of Midas Gold Idaho and the Stibnite Gold Project. Midas Gold has shown they are committed to Idaho and want to take care of the environment. We hope you move forward and permit this project as quickly as possible.

Midas Gold Idaho is not your typical mining company. The company realizes the Stibnite Gold Project site has been damaged after nearly a century of mining and that something must be done if we ever want to reclaim this brownfield site. Midas Gold Idaho wants to restore the site and take care of the environment through mining and we believe this is the best; alternative 2 as outlined by the U.S. Forest Service is the best chance to help the repair the historic Stibnite Mining District.

The Stibnite Gold Project is the type of project our state and Valley County needs. We highly encourage the U.S. Forest Service to permit this project, using the preferred alternative presented by Midas Gold, as expeditiously as possible. This has gone on long enough. Thank you for your diligence in this matter.

Sincerely,

John and Cynthia Schroeder, Donnelly residents
