

Jean Fundingsland

October 12, 2020

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to protest the restoration project's plan to allow off-road motorized vehicles in the forest. They have all of the BLM land to use. Our forests are a place to get away from the constant noise pollution. There are far too few of these sanctuaries and we need to protect the ones that are left, especially the easily accessible ones for the elderly.

I am also opposed to disturbing any of the roadless and old growth areas. Between the forest service and oil and gas there are already too many roads and old growth is practically extinct.

I'm opposed to tree sales, both commercial and for fire wood. The trees are far more valuable for absorbing carbon dioxide, creating oxygen and fighting global warming.

I also don't understand the need for mowing and how you plan to restore the forest. I look forward to more information.

Sincerely,

Jean Fundingsland

Jean Fundingsland

Oct. 12, 2020

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to protest the restoration projects plan to allow off-road motorized vehicles in the forest. They have all of the BLM land to use. Our forests are a place to get away from the constant noise pollution. There are few to few of these sanctuaries and we need to protect the ones that are left, especially the easily accessible ones for the elderly.

I am also opposed to disturbing any of the roadless and old growth areas. Between the forest service and oil and gas there are already too many roads and old growth is practically extinct.

I'm opposed to tree sales, both commercial and for fire wood. The trees are far more valuable for absorbing carbon dioxide, creating oxygen and fighting global warming.

I also don't understand the need for mowing and how you plan to restore the forest. I look forward to more information.

Sincerely,
Jean Fundingsland