Hello there!

My name is Jonathan Siegrist, I am a professional, full-time rock climber. I spend the year traveling the world for rock climbing (currently in the Swiss Alps for the summer) and I have spent many many summers residing in Lander, Wy and climbing around County Ten. I think of Wyoming as a second home.

I feel strongly that the climbing accessed via Roads 326 and 352 is of international quality and I really hope that the USFS would consider prioritizing these roads as a point of access for not only us climbers but also for hunters, fishermen, hikers and more. The roads are especially important during the best months of the year for recreation - spring and fall months.

These roads help us safely access some of the best climbing in the country, in an unbeatable landscape. Thank you for your consideration and I really look forward to getting back out there!

Cheers, Jonathan
