the travel management plan that is in place should remain. the proposed changes make no sense, placing a set date to start and stop over the snow usage has no true merit every year is different so a standard date will not work. year to year snow conditions change. the high and low elevation part of this plan makes no sense either. ive ridden snowmobiles all my life and from my experience riders don't want to ride in poor snow conditions, it causes damage to machines and is just no fun. responsible snowmobilers don't abuse the forest. DONT CHANGE THE TRAVEL PLAN.
