Dear acting supervisor,

I'm making this comment as an individual. [REDACTED] travel to the Shoshone National forest several time a year to snowmobile especially in the late spring when this area still has considerable snowpack. It would be devastating to the OSV community if we end up with a short end OSV season over what we have had historically. Furthermore I don't want to see any loss in acreage to current snowmobile recreation areas. These are public lands and should be for the benefit of all Americans. It seems that the mechanized and motorized recreation community is always fighting an uphill battle when it comes to maintaining access to our lands. Please don't give into well-funded special interest groups such as the Sierra Club and The Wilderness Society who are not looking out for the general public's interest and have been so effective at pushing access for the American people off our public lands.

Sincerely,

Jesse Combs
President
