I am not in favor of the proposal to convert this system road segment into a motorized trail. I have driven both my personal pickup and ATV down this road and back out and I probably will not take a full size, expensive pickup I own down in there again, especially in the Fall when weather conditions can change quickly. Granted it is a terrible road and would probably make a better ATV trail, but currently it is people's choice to risk that road with their personal vehicles during that time frame or anytime that is gets wet and muddy in there and yes that can cause resource and road damage but so will ATVs, side-by-sides, or UTVs, however, probably to a lesser extent. In addition, an outfitter currently accesses his outfitter camp with supplies with vehicles wider than ORVs.
