

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

We strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. We're excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

We urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Niles & Michele Busler
Townsend MA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Edwin Hollowell
Mobile AL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I very strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Kathryn Kaffer
Tucson AZ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands are treasures.. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Gratefully,
Karen Bratkovic
Des Plaines IL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Old growth means it takes centuries to grow, not days or weeks. By protecting old growth we protect animals, the earth and humans.

Thank you
Barbara Stoloff
FOREST HILLS NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Not everything has to be sacrificed, and old-growth forests are one of those things. Be true to E.O. 10472 and chose protection.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Robert Franz
Plymouth Meeting PA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

The health and future of our environment should be our priority when considering the access the logging industry has to our forests. Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Laura Horowitz
Pittsburgh PA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Old growth forests are an important element in climate change as well as the legacy we leave to future generations.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Daisy Kates
Placitas NM

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Protecting old growth forest, to assist in fighting climate change and save habitat is urgent!!

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Noren
Ann Arbor MI

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. Old-growth, mature, trees capture carbon far more effectively than do younger trees!

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Richard Shannahan
Lutherville-Timonium MD

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. Everyone knows how very important old growth forests are, and preserving these forests is crucial!

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Karen Schnitzer
Cheshire, CT

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development. End special deals for the logging industry

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
David Copper
Staunton, VA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

As an Ecologist and a citizen I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. Science has shown that old-growth and mature forests do more for sequestering carbon than younger forests do. We need these mature forests to remain intact.

Sincerely,
Jo Anna Hebbinger, PhD
Saint Paul, MN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Again, thank you for carefully considering my request; and for your work toward a healthy, just, and peaceful planet; because the earth is the only planet for all of us.

Sincerely,
Russell Fletcher
Santa Rosa, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Develop a cost for loss of eco services and carbon sequestration that is included in any benefits analysis when considering any logging. I think you'll find that no amount of jobs can replace the work these forests do

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Maureen Lorenz
Columbus, OH

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Kelly Kreiser

YES! EXECUTIVE ORDER 14072

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

BLM MUST combat the extinction and climate crises by protecting old-growth, and, mature forests!

We, strongly, support protecting old-growth, and, mature, forests on Bureau of Land Management and Forest Service lands! We are excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory, and, conserve, these forests for, at-risk, species, climate, mitigation, and, other, benefits for wildlife and people!

Our family caress about seeing, old-growth, forests protected! Protect old-growth forests from, industrial, logging and, climate, change! Our forests are experiencing an array of, climate, threats. Larger, old, trees are, more, resilient to the wildfires, now, being made worse by, climate, change. Unfortunately, the, timber, industry has its eyes on, valuable, large tree that make up old, and, mature, forests!

We urge the Forest Service and BLM to strengthen protections for, old-growth, and, mature, forests and to defend these forests from, industrial logging!

We urge the Forest Service and the BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth, and, mature, forest protections will endure through time.

Sincerely,
Diane Kastel
Wheaton, IL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

These trees are the lungs of our planet and chopping them down will just hurry our extinction.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Judith Wilson
Brooklyn, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development. These projects must be stopped before they begin!

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Leonora Xhrouet
Davie, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. PLEASE PROTECT!

Sincerely, JACK Poole
Marion, IN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. Recent discoveries have shown that old growth trees are able to store more carbon than younger trees, which makes them even more important than we realized.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Lee Winslow
Mason, MI

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

NO old growth logging.

Sincerely,
Weslie Phillips
Wickenburg, AZ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

The genetic pool of these forests needs to be preserved and spread to grow the areas out.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Helen Beichel
Brooklyn, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth & mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) & Forest Service lands. I was happy to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory & conserve them for at-risk species, climate mitigation, & other benefits for wildlife & people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development. How much Environmental Degradation of America forests is acceptable to the US FOREST SERVICE???

Sincerely,
Scott Myerly
Evansville, IL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting and preserving old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Gregoria Ponce
Elk Grove, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

As you know, old-growth forests provide a vital habitat and act as a storehouse for regeneration of many species. The BLM must strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I am excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I strongly urge the USFS and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for working to implement these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the USFS and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

For our old-growth forests, environment and future,

Larry Lambeth
Springfield, MO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations.

Sincerely,
Jay Brasher
Petersburg, TN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is an important action that the Forest Service and BLM are uniquely positioned to take.

Sincerely,
Rick Martin
Houston, TX

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start NOW by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Lorrie Gault
Sanford, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. Please take action now, and do the right thing for all.

Sincerely,
Rev. Marthalia Susan Thurston
Brandon, VT

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. It is also part of your mission as you work on behalf of us all.

Sincerely,
Jane Twitmyer
Roseland, VA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Please protect old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I support President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jeanette King
Livermore, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. Some old-growth logging is necessary but it is not wise to clear-cut an entire area in these forests! Even older logs provide a home & necessary contributions to our environment. Careful & thoughtful selections are best to protect these forests over the long term.

Sincerely,
Michelle Fidler
Bellville, OH

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I wish to voice my STRONG support for protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was thrilled and grateful to hear about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. This is CRITICALLY important.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to: --Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time. --Protect old and mature trees from logging. --Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

THANK YOU for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to fight both the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Grace Holden
Arlington, VA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Terri Dishman
Falls City, NE

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. Old growth forests are key in the health of America and our planet!

Sincerely,
Mary Etherton
Asheville, NC

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Once these forests are gone, they would never be the same. We've destroyed so much in my 80 year lifetime. It's time to conserve.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. VERY IMPORANT!!! I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Madeline Von der Londen
Henderson, NV

Hello, Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Deborah Trowbridge
Missoula, MT

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Without our forests...we die.

Sincerely,
Carrington Petras
Verona, VA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

SAVE the forests ! SAVE the planet -for ALL LIFE!! I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Barron
Slingerlands, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was so excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Kiara Johnson
Land O Lakes, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

It is imperative that we save old growth forest. They are the first line for carbon sequestration and home to wildlife. I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Rosie Miller
Oldenburg, IN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Kevin D. McCollough

Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Tanya Piker
La Junta, CO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and the BLM to: - Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time; - Protect old and mature trees from logging; and - Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and the BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,

Renee Rule
Scottsdale, AZ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I love trees and forests, so I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Juliann Rule
Avon, MN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I was encouraged to hear about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt rules that ensure old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
David Jack Kenny
Frederick, MD

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Claire Vecchio

Moore and Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Maudie Valero
Coral Gables, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Halt old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Susan Donaldson
Boulder, CO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

It is the sworn duty of both the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jordan Briskin
Palo Alto, CA

Tuesday (1115), 22 August 2022

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Greetings! I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory, and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from regular, un-called for, and excessive logging.

Start now by delaying old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Grant Holly
Roanoke , VA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

We strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. We were excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

We urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Susanne Hesse & Doug Dyer
Alachua, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Old growth is good growth!

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Pamela Askew
Dallas, TX

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. This is vital for carbon capture and the ecosystem health that old growth forest provides.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Felicity Devlin
Tacoma, WA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. Therefore, I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072, which calls on your agencies to define, inventory, and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Respectfully I remain
FRED R DAVIS, (MORTAL)
Tampa, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jerell Lambert
Austin, TX

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Wendy White
Horton, MI

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I strongly urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Lanelle Lovelace
Columbia, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time. Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Dini DiNatale
Westerville, OH

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on BLM and Forest Service lands. I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development. Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Leslie Lambdin
Asheville, NC

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations.

Sincerely,
Rob Holl
Asheville, NC

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. Per President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people, I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you .

Sincerely,
Joseph Bahr
Waterbury Center, VT

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Roz Rogers
Deerfield, NH

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Patricia Kortjohn
Wyckoff, NJ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Celeste Andersen
Solvang, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Important!

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
JD Cleveland
Boulder, CO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Toni LeQuire-Schott
Upper Montclair, NJ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Save our trees and forests!

Sincerely,
Lisa Keim
Oak Lawn, IL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

My family and I vigorously support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. We were excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

We urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
David L. Allara
State College, PA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory, and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

These trees are an integral part of our history, having been around for hundreds of years. They should be protected for future generations to enjoy.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Sheila Desmond
Cameron Park, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Please forgive the boilerplate, but it expresses my point succinctly.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Tristan MacAvery, PhD
Syracuse, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

I have read that old growth forests consume more carbon dioxide than young forests, another reason for protecting them.

Sincerely,
Carol Bayens
Houston, TX

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. The United States has already destroyed more than 97% of its old growth forests, which are critical for healthy ecosystems and wildfire resistance.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.
Make the definition of old growth trees 80 years and older.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth O'Halloran
Spokane, WA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. We need these forests for the health of the environment and to protect the habitat for wildlife. Once they are gone, there's no going back. Please do not allow this to happen. Thank you for reading this.

Joan Carlson
Minnetonka, MN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Hello. My name is Benjamin

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Benjamin Billhardt
Fontana, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

PLEASE PROTECT OUR TREES....THEY SERVE A PURPOSE. I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jane beene
Phoenix, AZ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development. Industrial logging decimates forests, hurts the creatures that need & DESERVE to abide there.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Cheri Langlois
Mendocino, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Old growth and mature forests must be protected. Period, End of sentence. It is indeed that important.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Gail Madison
Lubbock, TX

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will continue into the future without limit.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Thomas Proett
Valley Springs, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction.

Sincerely,
John Kayser
Pine, CO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for protecting America's old-growth and mature forests. This is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Many thanks!!!

Sincerely,
Carlene Meeker
New York, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Please protect old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I'm happy that President Biden's Executive Order 14072 calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

Action opportunities for Forest Service and BLM include:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations.

Sincerely,
Darla Reeves
Lakewood, CO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. The easiest and cheapest way to decarbonize the atmosphere is to preserve old growth forests.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Robert Petersen
Canton, MA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

For our children's children, please protect old growth and mature forests so they can continue to give us fresh air and be home for so many animals and insects.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Suzanne Buchko
Vienna, VA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. Please protect our one precious planet by protecting old growth forests.

Sincerely,
Brenda Dolma
Homer, AK

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

We are on the verge of losing our Birds and Bees.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jeff Schmid
Frederic, WI

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

If we don't protect what is left of nature on this planet we will surely perish as the human race.

Sincerely,
Kristin Hanson
Anchorage, AK

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory, and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other countless intrinsic benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule to ensure mature forest protections.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Halt old-growth logging projects in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Any protection of America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Madison Warfield (26 yrs old) Environmental Scientist
Baltimore, Maryland

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Healthy, widespread old growth forests are vital to protect wildlife and slow the dangerous climate change that is causing so many extreme weather events around the world. That's why I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Kevin Crupi
Marquette, MI

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

They certainly warrant protection.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Bill Carroll
Pocahontas, AR

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Denise Sterling
Minnetonka, MN

I am very concerned that old growth forests in this country could be threatened by the logging industry and need to be protected now..

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Barton
New York, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Please protect old-growth and mature forests on BLM and Forest Service lands. I am encouraged by President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you! Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Cat Motycka
East Lansing, MI

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

As someone with a degree in Biology, I understand that old-growth forests are complex and extremely valuable. I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and humans.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to: -Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time; -Protect old and mature trees from logging; -Immediately halt old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering my comments and recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises we are entering.

Sincerely,
Mary S. Reed
Poultney, VT

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support FULLY AND PERMANENTLY protecting ALL old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's LONG-OVERDUE Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these CRUCIAL forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for ALL wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to: -S WIFTLY Adopt a rule that FULLY ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from ANY AND ALL logging.

Start now by IMMEDIATELY halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most CRITICALLY important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the CATASTROPHIC extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Jean Farris
Orlando, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

We cannot get these majestic trees back in our lifetime if ever! We literally need the trees for the air we breathe.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Dianne Moreno
Carmel, IN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. Old trees and forests CANNOT be replaced and must be protected. It's time to stop treating our natural resources such as forests as replaceable commodities.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Leigh Wilson
Raleigh, NC

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. In fact, I think it is imperative for us to do so. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for acting on these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Diana Cowans
Bradenton, FL

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

We desperately need to protect all our forests from logging and from fires due to climate change.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Nancy Stier
Parkville, MD

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

As an environmental engineer, I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Ruchir Vora
Chapel Hill, NC

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Old Growth Forests are one of the life-givers on the planet! They stand as our Friends. Why would we kill a friend!?!?!?

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Bonnie MacRaith
Arcata, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely, Douglas Devlin
Mount Juliet, TN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

As conservationists we value protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. We were happy to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

We have been recreating on USFS and BLM lands for over 4 decades and realize the gravity of the current climate crisis on our forests. Thus we urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Gail and John Richardson
Bozeman, MT

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I am pleased to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time;

Protect old and mature trees from logging;

Halt old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Sharon Wilson
Seattle, WA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. It might have taken centuries for such forests to develop!

I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Victoria Cline
Troy, NY

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands, and anywhere else they still exist! I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start NOW by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. This action is directly related to serious Climate Change and the well-being of all species, including us!

Sincerely,
Natalie Shuttleworth
San Francisco, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Our forests are vital to our environment.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Judy Fairless
Warren, NJ

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting mature and old-growth forests on Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory, and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that mature and old-growth forest protections will endure through time

Protect old and mature trees from logging

Halt old-growth logging projects that are in development

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's mature and old-growth forests is one of the many important actions the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management can take to combat at-risk species extinction and help mitigate the climate crises.

Sincerely,
Norma Van Nostrand
Longmont, CO

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Please help.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Michael Cohill
Akron, OH

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I am writing because I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was pleased to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

With this in mind, I respectfully urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Rachael Denny
Bradley, CA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. Such marvelous giant trees literally HOLD our land in PLACE with their root systems. If they are destroyed, they WILL NOT be REPLACED for MANY GENERATIONS. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Judy Warren
Charleston, SC

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

The earth needs our love and protection right now in the most vigorous manner possible.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Robin Kladke
Roseburg, OR

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

Those trees are not only critical to us to maintain a climate in which our species can thrive, but they need to be seen by future generations. With Hope.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
David Bjorkman
Lynnfield, MA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development. Every old tree that is cut down releases its sequestered carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. All proposed logging projects must be withdrawn to prevent such a release of the climate warming gas.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Linda Campbell
Emmaus, PA

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

There aren't that old growth- mature forests left. So please protect them as required by President Biden's Executive Order!!! And not just for the immediate present, but also VERY long term.

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Letitia Langord
Rogersville, TN

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises. SAVE THE TREES; SAVE THE WORLD !!!!!

Sincerely,
Debra Gluck
Greenville, TX

Dear Chief Moore and Director Stone-Manning:

I strongly support protecting old-growth and mature forests on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Forest Service lands. I was excited to learn about President Biden's Executive Order 14072 that calls on your agencies to define, inventory and conserve these forests for at-risk species, climate mitigation, and other benefits for wildlife and people. This is even more important because of global warming.

I urge the Forest Service and BLM to:

Adopt a rule that ensures that old-growth and mature forest protections will endure through time.

Protect old and mature trees from logging.

Start now by halting old-growth logging projects that are in development.

Thank you for considering these recommendations. Protecting America's old-growth and mature forests is one of the most important actions the Forest Service and BLM can take to combat the extinction and climate crises.

Sincerely,
Saran K.
Los Angeles, CA