

I fully support the Stibnite project. I have recreated and worked in the area for many years. I was on the crew that staked the claims and saw the state the area was left in by previous activity. I returned years later as part of the geophysical crew and saw all the work done to mitigate the uncontrolled runoff and erosion that had been a long term problem.

I'm looking forward to seeing what Stibnite and the East Fork South Fork drainage look like with continued reclamation. I believe that the worst option would be to do nothing at all.

I see the project as a great opportunity to extract much needed resources, correct the mistakes of previous generations and create jobs for Idahoans like myself.

Thank you, Carson A Eleazer
