

I am pleased a responsible organization like Perpeuta is taking on this project, an old mine site is being cleaned up and fish passage restoration will allow migration to native spawning grounds that have been cut off for over a century. This is exciting news. The community could not wish for a better company to lead this initiative.

David Sopko