

This is a typical mining scam with no defined objectives to improve water or air quality and no consequences when the company bails, fails, or leaves the public with the cleanup. No way this should go through.

Mary-Ellen Maynard