

To Whom it may concern

How long does it take the Forest Service to evaluate a mine plan? It's time to move on and start mining at Stibnite. I support the project!

America desperately needs antimony. This mineral is used in munitions, large-capacity storage batteries, fire retardants and more. Currently, we are entirely dependent on foreign countries to provide this mineral.

Let us all see the benefits of the Stibnite Gold/Antimony Project. The Forest Service has been reviewing the project for the last six years. During this time, the company has reduced the project size by 13% in the SDEIS, decreased maximum water temperature to keep it at or below baseline conditions and eliminated the need for long-term water treatment. The review process is working and now we need regulators to advance the project as expeditiously as possible.
