

I am a supporter of the Stibnite Gold project. The nation needs to identify and mine resources of critical minerals like antimony.

Perpetua Resources has designed a project to do just that while mitigating and reclaiming their land disturbance involved in the process. In addition they will correct environmental problems at the site created by prior mining activities and improve upon current conditions. This is a win for everybody.

Gaylord Cleveland