Good afternoon,

I wanted to be sure to submit a comment on this project. Having just moved to Tennessee after hunting the northeast for grouse, I see massive amounts of untapped potential. This project is desperately needed in the Cherokee National forests. Not only that, I firmly believe continued efforts like this in that area would have huge return on investment for wildlife numbers even outside of grouse. There are pockets of healthy wildlife just waiting for this type of project to commence.

Very respectfully,
Andrew Martin
