To the Forest Service:

I urge you to oppose the construction of the power line in the Caja. It will destroy wilderness sacred to many. But, there is a more powerful and important reason to not approve the construction. LANL has some of the world's most brilliant scientists, with unparalleled equipment on which to experiment and do research. If you oppose the power line, you give LANL the opportunity to create and innovate solutions to power lines that will help the world develop sustainable sources of power. The construction of the power line is an abomination. It should not be built.

Thank you for your consideration.
