We would add our objections to the above ground extension of the APS line.

- . With the changing local weather and ground conditions, any construction of lines that can increase risk of wildfire is inappropriate.
- . APS has a responsibility to maintain safe conditions for the entire forest area and especially near residential areas.
- . With the constantly increasing demands for more revenue by

APS, it seems unlikely that the cost of underground lines would jeopardize the company's finances.

Respectfully submitted,

Jane and Robert Ganelin
