Comments: Additional Comment in Opposition of Forsythe II

To Whom It May Concern:

As a follow up to my previous comment, as well as those of Vivian Long and other individuals, including but not limited to Thomas T Veblen, attached are a number of current scientific papers which the USFS was apparently not planning to consider in its on-going pursuit of the indefensible Forsythe II project.

It bears mentioning, yet again, that the USFS's cited science is incomplete, scattered, seemingly random, and, in the main, is apparently cherry-picked from timber-harvest-focused scientists.

This is consistent with the long and well-documented history of conflicts of interest corrupting USFS "forest management" projects.

I intend and expect that the USFS will consider the attached documents.

Sincerely,

Todd Adelman
