Comments: Every person should have the right to access these lands. There are trails established and we should be able to continue to use them, We can't teach future generations how to correctly take care of the land if we are not allowed to access the land and use these trails. To me it is important to teach my son how to survive in the wilderness. It is important for me to show him how to be able to enjoy the land all the while of taking care of it and respecting it at the same time..
