Comments: Assessment comments - please select the one I sent at 5:45 PM not 5 PM

I am very sorry to bother you about this, but, not knowing if the comment deadline today was 5 PM or midnight, I submitted a first comment online at 5 PM, and then a second final comment to you at 5:45PM, in hopes the deadline was midnight.

Hope I have not caused confusion by submitting two versions, and wondered if you could clarify that the version of my comments you chose for the record was the second, finalized version at 5:45PM, not the first comment I submitted at 5 PM as a placeholder.

Again, sorry for the extra bother, and thank you for undertaking this important plan.

Roz McClellan

Please disregard the attachment below if you successfully received my 5:45 PM comments via the online website.

It is the same letter, but likely not needed, as long as you got the second version of my online comments.
