Comments: To whom it may concern: In light of the possible limitation of motorized use of multiple regulated public lands, and recreation areas.

As a Property owner in the Moose Pass area; My family has been in Alaska since 1947 and my grandfather has given more State park recreation campgrounds, shooting ranges ect.to the STATE OF ALASKA and DIVISION OF NATURAL RESOURCES that I can count, he was one of the top 9 Private land owners of the State of early pioneers... Look him up SAM MCDOWELL and yes he was a BIG DEAL and all he done was give, on top of that as well our family has been riding snowmobiles in Alaska since 1959, owned multiple snowmobile/ recreation dealerships in Anchorage and the first one on the Kenai peninsula. Enjoying the great outdoor as a way of life and subsistence. On top of that we have supported the equal rights of ALL land users. With the importance of hunting and fishing and all recreation activity, the DNR lands should be used equally for the beautiful resource that it all holds. Nothing will be gained by limiting these areas of access. Per capita it is truly a shame that the recreation use of our great state is narrowed down to what I would call a minimum already. Down in other states you can ride from state to state on government regulated trails and they go for miles...Hundreds of miles! and in the end it all works out beautiful.

I vote that we open more areas for winter and summer recreation. The snowmobiling community and winter activists all work together quite well and respect each others passion on enjoying this state for all it has to offer, technically it is all working out perfect.

I'm a fourth generation Alaskan that sees hunting, fishing and recreational use EQUAL for all ALASKANS. I will continue to utilize this state for the resource that it is, raise my family as we have for generations.

Thank you And God Bless
