Comments: Growing up in Alaska with the beautiful summers with 24 hour day light is amazing an such a wonderful time but as we know the winters are dark an cold and not much to do besides sit inside with friends an usually make bad decisions either it be drinking or making the decision to do drugs

I've seen so many people who can't afford to drive hours from Home to go enjoy the Backcountry in the winter time end up taking the wrong path in life being able to access an have the CNF in our back yards has helped so many young Alaska's have so many more things to spend their money on like a vehicle to get to the mountains the gas in the snowmobile an truck to the food an gear to keep us warm taking away the CNF would impact more Alaskans then you could imagin please do not take this away from us this is our life!

The impact snowmobiles have on the land is one of the lowest I've ever seen

Hiking trails an camp spots impact Alaska areas way more

Sincerely a proud Alaskan
