Comments: We can all work together. Lets start now! We need less divide in this country, now more than ever.

I have lived in Alaska for over 40yrs and have been an avid user of these lands which are now in question. I have been enjoying these areas since I was old enough to throw a leg over a motorized vehicle, or even strap on a set of skis. Winter is my time of year. Things begin to quiet down a bit after a long summer season, and the landscape transforms into an even more breathtaking sight with every snowflake that comes to rest. As many others will attest this is a way of life, an avenue for both mental and physical wellness, not only for myself, but my family also. I am certain we can all coexist within these areas and work together towards sustaining our land and its resources. While I am not for any of the proposed options, If we are forced to choose, I am in support of option B.
