Comments: I am an avid outdoorsperson, with a Master's degree in Ecosystem based governance. These hills provide the solace that Boston, MA could never have. Living and working in these hills has been the best decision. The beauty, ecosystem service they provide and serenity is why I moved to Red Lodge, MT and is the basis of the local economy. I recommend maintaining the existing 22,800 acres in the Lionhead wilderness (no action Alt A). The Gallatin Forest Partnership agreement would be a benefit to all (Alt C). The crazy Mtns should remain wilderness with no mechanized trails, and should be managed in conjunction with the Crow Nation and the private landowners. The Pryors should be managed with care. Bear Canyon GN [illegible] managed as Alt d. A/B area managed as reflected in alt B. Ashland Ranger area managed for wilderness. Sioux Ranger district managed as reflected in alt D. Finally, management of recommended wilderness areas should prohibit nonconforming uses in RWAs with clear standards.
