Comments: I've lived in Gunnison Valley for 15+ years and enjoy the access to public lands this area provides. My biggest worry about revising the Forest Plan would be opening up the area to industries which doesn't align with the fact that climate will change all our lives soon. The overcrowding of popular trails is a large problem for the access to private easements to access public lands. Uneducated recreators overstep bounds and impact habitats negatively. Inact a public lands access class and licensing program.
