

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 7/22/2020 1:36:43 PM

First name: Lance

Last name: Olsen

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Custer Gallatin National Forest claims that, "the trajectory of large tree size class and prevalence of large tree structure (discussed above) indicate that the amount of old growth should also be increasing forestwide under all alternatives,"and voices a belief that, "Succession will continue to be the primary means by which old growth forest is developed."

These assertions are contradicted by evidence presented in 3 attached reports