

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/30/2021 5:54:02 PM

First name: Audrin

Last name: B.

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Hi! Despite how wicked this all looks in theory, it seems like a dumb idea to ruin such a cool mountain with a lame vanity project. Maybe build a rollercoaster in the city? I bet Cliff's could use some help after the pandemic, maybe rock a cool ride with them? It just seems like a wack place for an - admittedly - wack concept. The Sandia's are super awesome, a staple of the desert, and it feels gross to disrupt the eco-life and animals chillin' just so little timmy can experience 34 seconds of scoots. Isn't it on Sandia Pueblo land too? There's absolutely no way they'd be down with this, and I think their perspective probably outweighs whoever could rather just go to Cliff's instead. Again, cool idea, wrong place. Totally not opposed to rollercoasters, just put them in places that kinda make sense y'know. Thanks for your time. Diagram attached.