Comments: I firmly support intensive, even aggressive fuels reduction projects. I am a retired Forest Service recreation/lands manager and live in an urban interface area. I have seen how successful fuel breaks around my subdivision prevented damage to private property and limited damage to the surrounding forest. As examples of this success, I have attached 2 photos showing the fuel break taken with firefighting efforts and how the Buffalo Fire at the edge of the Eagles Nest Wilderness, stopped this fire in its tracks. Thanks for taking my comment.
