Comments: I have lived in the Forests most of my life, and they need to be protected, we are losing a lot of forests to forest fires, The old growth trees, have been around for thousands of years. We call them the Standing People, there is no need for clear cutting. There has to be better management of the forests, that doesn't mean more cutting, but managing them, so they stay healthy. Are Children will not have these beautiful standing people, to look forward to if they are not taken care of, Thank You, Bill Little Eagle Ellison.
