Comments: I am appalled at the slimy way this corporation is trying o steal one of Montana's crown jewels.

Holland Lake has been such a special place in my and my children's lives for the past 25 years. We hike up to the falls every year, summer and winter. Each of my sons has this wonderful place ingrained in their lives. Two of my sons proposed to their wives at the falls, and another took his fiance up there to write their wedding vows.

None of those could have taken place with the throngs of people that are sure to trample such a pristine area.

The Forest Service should be ashamed of prostituting itself to big business. This ranks right up there with Lipson and Paws Up trying to steal Montana's "Last Best Place". Yes, some of the buildings need a face lift, but turning Holland Lake into mega resort for the rich just makes my stomach churn. Please, please please reconsider and block this abomination.
