Comments: Dear U.S. Forest Service,

I am nine years old. In 2020, during the pandemic, I went to live with my grandparents in Wonalancet for three months. I've been there other times, too, to visit. I remember hiking Big Rock Cave trail and how fun it was. Please do not cut down so many trees around Wonalancet. When I heard the name "United States Forest Service," I thought it meant that you would protect forests. This doesn't sound like something the Forest Service should do.

Sincerely,

Tenaz Thompson-Lastad

P.S. My dad is attaching a photo of him, me, and my little brother at Big Rock Cave in 2020.
