Comments: Obviously there's probably some loophole that would allow you to go through with the cut even if the images I posted direct from your "forest plan" are valid. There should be no large scale logging operations in the WMNF period. Coming back from Colorado I see a valid point for fire mitigation but this is simply a money scheme prettied up with the promise of helping the ecosystem when in reality everything in that area is perfectly fine stop meddling and let people enjoy the land as nature intended.
