Comments: We need more Wilderness, period. We need it for ourselves, for the economy, and for future generations. Most of all, we need it to protect Montana, and the American West. Our population is booming, people are moving in, and without adequate protections, our wild places will gradually be degraded. There must be places where there are no roads, no vehicles, no machines, no resource extraction, no anything... just raw, original nature, where we go to remember how things once were, where we came from, who we once were and who we still are at our core. Only Wilderness can provide that. There are a thousand other reasons to expand protections for existing natural landscapes but I'll leave it at that. Thank you for your consideration.
