Comments: I would appreciate if the old-growth forest in US were protected and make sure that no one will be capable of cutting these marvels of nature for some pile of dust and few planks. We've lost so much of our ecological stability and it would be an irreversible damage towards nature and recovery from missing such trees would take hundreds or even thousands of years to make these trees reappear again from the sapling. Please consider this comment and please make sure that the these ancient trees will not dissapear.
