Comments: It seems that one needs to be both a lawyer and detective to stay on top of the laundry list of impacts not addressed in the CRMP. While I am neither, I strongly agree with the well presented points provided by the Swan View Coalition in their attached pdf.

It is unfortunate that your measure of 'success' is based on getting as many people as possible into our wildlands. You should not increase your allowed service days and those opportunities should favor private parties not commercial outfitters and guides.

Please set a strict limit based on your currently allowed service days and provide the enforcement necessary to protect this vital habitat and the wildlife that occupies it.

Thank you,

Chris
