"Unless someone like you cares a whole awful lot, nothing is going to get better, it's not" ~~The Lorax, Dr. Seuss

Excerpt from attachment copied here 9/23/15 for coding purposes.

"The Cibola should analyze which areas are most likely to see wolves in the near future, and consider best management practices regarding various resources to ensure that wolves can thrive. Specifically, the plan should analyze grazing impacts on wolves and how wolf-cattle interactions can generally be minimized, including how ranchers can be more responsible for removing or otherwise disposing of carcasses within the forest so as not to attract wolves, and avoidance of portions of allotments which overlap den sites while pups are present."
