Cibola National Forest

Planning Team

Comment #1

If we are serious about preserving our Forest for future generations we need to humble ourselves and go back to multiple use the way the Agency was establish as. Wilderness designation all it does is take the land out production and build fuels and when a fire starts it just runs its course We've seen it here and are seeing in Western states today.

Comment #2

I don't like the idea of the landscape team special interest groups or teams was what caused the Forest Service to get out of multiple use and then is when we started seeing the calastropic fires.

Comment #3

I don't know to many people on the Forest anymore But do know two key staff people in the S.O. and one on the Mountainair district that could be a good source of information and advice with out any teams.

Comment #4

Question Are we going to tell the kids of our grand kids that locust and scrub oak are National Forest?
