Comments: Hello, thank you for accepting and reviewing my opinion.

My family and I lived in Belgrade Montana for several years due to work. We retreated to Holland Lake campground several times that period to escape the hustle and reconnect with nature. I wish I could tell you every little experience we had there, how my children learned to quietly watch the deer and bears without disturbing them. How we stuck it out in a tent in bad weather because we loved it there so much. I fear all the new construction and people invading that haven will change it irreparably. There are not many quiet corners left to escape to in the US please don't make these changes as they will impact the ecosystem and natural dynamics forever. Thank you again for taking the time to read this.
