Comments: I'm a life long resident of Kentucky, currently caretaking 200 acres of forested land in the Daniel Boone National Forest for ASPI - Appalachia Science In The Public Interest. My partner and I lost a car in the March 2021 flooding of the Rockcastle river. Clearcutting mature forest will only lead to erosion, landslides, habitat loss, and is sure to worsen future flooding events. I object strongly to the Forest Service's plan in Jellico.
