

Dear Payette National Forest Supervisor,

I would just like to keep informed, and learn more about the project. I really don't know what is best.

An online stock advisor promoted this project; fortunately, I found the name of the stock somewhere else, so didn't have to pay him.

Our first investment dropped about 50%, but we finally were able to retrieve that with some gain. We thought we might want to re-invest, when the stock dropped. After what seemed like quite awhile, I decided to sell, to use the money elsewhere. Two weeks later, or so, it almost tripled!!

I don't really know WHAT God wants me to do, what is the best thing, what I feel like doing. It's a potentially exciting venture, but a geologist who lives in the area assured anyone who read his letter that any mining would NOT ultimately be good for the area. What do you think?

Sincerely,

Jeani Sandberg
