

THE SDEIS is an opportunity to control old mines that are a liability relative to today's modern approach in mining and environmental monitoring and mitigation. Given the data and analysis the Stibnite Gold Project should both help the environment and help with our dependence on critical minerals,

Richard Bedell