Comments: Just want to take a few minutes to express my support of expansion of backcountry access to Chugach National Forrest. My Family and I spend 30 + days a year recreating in the backcountry and it is important to us to have more snowmachine access. The lost lake trail should have permanent improvements made to allow access during low snow conditions below. Under no circumstance should there be more restrictions to land access for any user group. It is critical that Nellie Juan remain up through the snowy river.

Open up the national forest and move away from policy's that keep my children from enjoying the great outdoors. I do not support restricted access to any group.
