Comments: Dear Sirs and Madams, Please keep all the safeguards in place to protect the Chugach National Forest. I know there is a lot of pressure to loosen controls in forest and Wilderness areas, but if you could see how much the public enjoys all these areas with out chainsaws or motorized vehicles you would vow to protect them. This weekend the parks had free day to visit Tent Rocks National Monument. There were over a hundred cars with probably 4-500 people who came out to spend their Valentine's Day in a National Monument. The parking lots were stuffed with cars and so were the over flow parking areas. We had to wait just to get through the skinny areas of the hike again and again. Everybody was cheerful and kind to each other. Sincerely, Pat Duncan
