Comments: this is wrong. all off Alaska its unused uninhabited and private property! These whiney tour guides and want all land for their business and personal financial gain. get them out of here you the reason more and more people are discovering Alaska. give people incentive to go out and explore yet complain when it occurs. let Alaska be wild get greedy money hungry tour guides, sport fishing guides out.state of alaska has made it pert near impossible to step foot off the sidewalks. I live in rural alaska and live a rural life. with your imaginary lines and private property no trespassing signs makes it disgusting to image that this is Alaska all for the greater good of business. your feeble attempts to stop regulate prosecute direct people from using exploring live alaska will not happen. maybe try to educate business owners land users to respect maintain coexist. private property alaska is is not alaska. and is not a valid solution especially with the rising population and our door enthusiast
