Comments: To Whomever ... my wife and I experienced our first AK visit this past summer, along w/ other lower-48 friends on a repeat visit. We sailed w/ Capt Dean Rand (Discovery Voyage) and witnessed the awe and beauty of Alaska's pristine wilderness.

It was disheartening to see HOW MUCH human traffic (and climate) is washing away the awesomeness of Alaska's natural beauty.

We very much want to return to repeat the breathtaking experience created by the Discovery Voyage crew ... but news of developing more tracts of wilderness ... or eliminating appropriate barriers that would allow unchecked development ... is disheartening.

PLEASE ... do not do anything that would allow Alaska's true heritage and wilderness areas to be more developed than already exists. IN FACT ... please do whatever you can to help reverse any human development.

Private capital and investment has no business in these special areas!!!!!!!
